Choosing a Carpet

When deciding what carpet to buy for your home, there are a few factors that you should consider.

Color: The advent of carpet fiber stain technology brought about a revolution in color possibilities. Homeowners, no longer fearing the use of light colored carpets, demand wider color choices. In general, darker shades create a dramatic effect, while lighter shades create a sense of spaciousness.

Style: There are three basic carpet constructions: cut pile, loop pile and cut & loop pile. When making your selection, ask your Abbey expert what style will work best in the area you wish to have the carpet installed.

Texture: Carpet texture establishes the character of a room or home, from the formal look of cut pile velvet Saxony to the casual look of frieze. The texture of carpet allows you to express your personality and lifestyle. A heavily textured carpet will also help hide foot prints.

Density: Density is how tightly each fiber is stitched together. To avoid a crushed and matted appearance, choose a carpet with high density.

Twist: Twist is how many times the fiber is twisted together in a one-inch length. The twist relates directly to the carpet's performance. A poorly twisted carpet may unravel giving a frayed and shaggy appearance.

Cushion: Cushion relates to the padding installed under the carpet. A denser padding typically increases comfort and durability.

Cleaning: In order to keep your Abbey Carpet & Floor in the best possible condition: Vacuum on a regular basis and have your carpets professionally cleaned every 12 to 18 months. To view carpet care guidelines follow this link.
